Paper Strip Hearts

Supplies:

Scrapbook Paper, Scissors, and Stapler

Steps:

*Cut strips of paper, 1 inch wide by 12 inches long. Or how ever long your paper is.

*For each heart, you will need 10 pieces of paper = 5 different patterns

*For the largest heart, begin with a 12 inch strip of paper.

Then cut each piece 1 inch shorter. You should have...

2 = 12 inch strips // 2 = 11 inch strips // 2 = 10 inch strips // 2 = 9 inch strips // 2 = 8 inch strips

*Stack the strips of paper beginning with the shortest on the bottom and the patterns facing up toward you, into 2 piles

*Make sure the edges are lined up, and punch a hole in the end, about 1/4 inch from the edge. If your hole punch is strong enough, punch all the strips at once. If not, punch one set, then use one of the strips as a pattern to punch the other set.

Now, lay the papers together with the 2 longest pieces facing together, right sides together. Making sure the holes are lined up, then attach the brad fastener.

*Next it's time to form the heart shape. Bring each of the ends together until they match and punch a hole. If your hole punch isn't strong enough to go through all 10 pieces of paper, use the hole you punched on the other side as a guide.

Now, attach the brad fastener and you are ready to hang the paper hearts
